

Strategic legal counsel for companies, institutions, family-owned businesses and complex private wealth.

Significant legal matters are no longer purely legal. They cut across business, regulation, contracts, disputes, employment relations, corporate governance and reputation. Our role is to anticipate, structure and defend those decisions before risk materializes.

WHEN TO CALL US

- When a corporate decision could pit partners, shareholders or control groups against each other.
- When an authority opens a review, request, audit or proceeding.
- When a transaction demands regulatory, contractual or competition-law analysis.
- When litigation puts reputation, operations, continuity or assets at stake.
- When a family business must order governance, succession, control or a partner's exit.
- When a labor or union contingency threatens operations.
